Testimonials

“ After experiencing two Bots designed from KPMG, focusing on bank reconciliations and allocations of control accounts, the finance function is running more efficiently and effectively. In fact, we estimate that we are saving approximately 75% of the time of one employee for each BOT. This is done accurately, in timely manner and at a lower cost. Our goal is to continue investing in such processes so we shift our descriptive traditional work to predictive and a real source of business intelligence to help our organization. These tools do not replace our human assets but rather compliment them.

Testimonials

“ KPMG’s automation was key in assisting a local bank in delivering a critical project. Thanks to this automation, we managed to migrate data from one system to another in just 3 weeks. It would have taken us months and a significant human resource commitment to input the same data manually. By automating this process we ensured the data was keyed in accurately, and avoided potential human error. We are extremely satisfied with our automation journey so far and look forward to continue building on this.
