

Challenges and opportunities of program integrity for Federal Healthcare

Federal healthcare spending is expected to rise to almost $1.5 trillion for fiscal year 2023. In turn, federal leaders are under enormous pressure to ensure the complex array of healthcare programs meet mission objectives and public expectations. A recent survey¹ sheds light on the challenges federal leaders face in order to maintain optimal integrity, transparency, and accountability of healthcare programs. Survey findings include:

KPMG's time-tested Program Integrity Framework establishes ongoing and effective communication with all stakeholders. Promoting efficiency, accountability, and transparency in the establishment of program integrity is paramount to our services; together, we can make it paramount to your mission. Learn more by visiting www.kpmg.com/us/programintegrity

¹ "Maximizing Mission Integrity, A Candid Survey of Program Officers at Federal Healthcare Organizations," Government Business Council, June 2018

